The 11th Choral Weekend organised by Northern Voices and Eden Valley Holidays will take place from the evening of Friday, June 17th, 2016 until the Sunday afternoon, June 19th.

Tutor/Leader/Instructor

Our leader this year will be Don Gillthorpe, Director of Music at Ripley St Thomas Church of England Academy, Lancaster. Don is very well-known in the Eden Valley, as he grew up only a few miles away, but his career has taken him very much further.

He trained as a singer and conductor at Lancaster University, graduating in 2006 and receiving the Denis McCaldin Performance prize for that year. His experience as a conductor is wide-ranging: from symphony orchestras and choral societies to wind bands and musical theatre. At his school in Lancaster, he leads a thriving department which boasts seven choirs, including a large boys' choir and a robed chapel choir.

As well as school and his work with the choirs of Lancaster Priory, Don is also in demand as a choral animateur, leading workshops and residential courses nationwide with singers of all ages. We know him here in Morland as Director of Church Music for the Morland Choristers' Camp, and he also teaches choral conducting for Sing for Pleasure.

Location

The weekend is based at Newby End Farm, and you can see pictures of the place and find out what else we get up to on our website, www.newbyendfarm.co.uk. We will be singing in the barn there and you can see pictures of that at www.newbyendfarm.co.uk/barn.html
