The 14th Choral Weekend organised by Northern Voices and Eden Valley Holidays will take place from the evening of Friday, June 14th, 2019 until the Sunday afternoon, June 16th.

Tutor and Pianist

We have booked Tobi Wolf, from Aberdeen and Germany to lead us this year.

Tobias Patrick Wolf FRSA is a Bosnian-German conductor and composer. He conducts at the University of Aberdeen and is music director of a variety of ensembles in both the UK and Germany. Tobias has taken part in a top 3 chart album with Royal wedding composer Paul Mealor, and has appeared on Classic FM and on German radio and television. Only in his late twenties, he has performed around the globe, several times for the Royal family, including HM The Queen and HRH Prince Charles. www.tpwolf.com

Tobi will include some operatic choruses in his mixed programme. This necessarily involves having a high-calibre pianist to play. He is bringing with him Joseph Fleetwood, a Scottish concert pianist whose playing has attracted high praise from critics as well as broadcasts on BBC 1, BBC 2, BBC Radio Scotland and regional stations throughout the UK, with live performances and CD recordings. Joseph has worked with outstanding and celebrated musicians including Josef Swensen, Artur Pizarro, the Royal Scottish National Orchestra, and many more. www.josephfleetwood.com

Location

The weekend is based at Newby End Farm, and you can see pictures of the place and find out what else we get up to by looking at our website, www.newbyendfarm.co.uk. We will be singing in the barn there and you can see pictures of that at www.newbyendfarm.co.uk/barn.html
